NOTICE

All students are personally responsible to make absolutely sure that:

- (1) they meet the admission requirements for the programme/module(s) that they registered for;
- (2) they are registered for the correct programme as well as for the correct year of study, eg E = first year, N = non-final year and F = final year;
- (3) all the modules they will be taking in the particular year were registered for;
- (4) it is indeed the correct modules;
- (5) the curriculum requirements for obtaining the qualification, according to the programme for which they are registered, are satisfied and that cognisance is taken of the constraints of exclusion modules in the choice of modules in some programmes of the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences.

The University accepts no responsibility for any negative class, test and examination timetable implications that the following of arrear modules might have.

All students are personally responsible for informing themselves of the regulations/provisions as set out in Part 1 (General) of the University's calendar. A bona fide mistake with regard to the registration of a student for a programme/module and/or an erroneous combination of modules will not give him or her the right to complete the programme/module(s) in question. The University reserves the right to end forthwith the student's participation therein.

If you have any doubt about the above matters or wish to change any of the particulars of your registration, please see the faculty secretary concerned in Block A of the Central Administration Buildings before the closing date for module and programme changes at the start of the first and/or second semester.

Note:

The remark 'Full Time' on your Proof of Registration refers to the status of the University and not to the scheduling of your study programme. Every student is registered as 'Full Time'. Keeping your contact details updated is every student's own responsibility. Use www.mymaties.com to update any information if needed.
